Comments: I generally oppose the expansion of gambling and marijuana. With respect to legislation on the areas where I have not indicated support or opposition, I would need to know more about the specific proposed legislation before being able to say definitively whether I support or oppose. This is true in general of my opinion of the job of a legislator: not to prejudge proposals before reading and digesting them, and hearing all points of view. On some topics, however, it's easier to indicate general support or opposition, and where I felt that was appropriate, I did so.
